What is ROAMD?

By doctors.
For doctors.

Bottom space should be equal to top

We believe healthcare gets better when membership based medical practices can be independent without being alone. With optimal patient care always being paramount, we help these practices expand their reach, power and influence to ultimately thrive and advance care quality.

Benefits of joining ROAMD

ROAMD network participation results in powerful medicine. Everywhere.

Connecting you to a network of doctors has a list of healthy benefits.

Benefit One

Membership in a Curated Community

As a curated physicians network, affiliation with ROAMD has both positive practice building and member retention implications. ROAMD creates opportunities to share best practices and build community among industry leaders across our network.

Benefit Two

Improved Practice Economics

Through ROAMD, physicians that want to significantly enhance the profitability of their practice don't have to lose their independence to do so. Our current and forthcoming solutions focus on increasing your topline revenues and/or minimizing bottom-line spend while saving you time. Specifics about the ROAMD economic model are available upon request for qualified physicians.

Benefit Three

Improved Patient Care and "White Glove" Service

ROAMD network participation ensures that your member patients have access to the "white glove" healthcare experience that your practice provides, even when they're away from home. By offering information about concierge, DPC and private medicine practices across our network, ROAMD allows you to provide your members with local perspective and options ... even when local is far away.

Benefit Four

Growing Your Practice

To date, ROAMD members have enjoyed significant referrals into their practices from other providers in the network. As concierge physicians, we are often asked to recommend a physician when one of our patients moves to a new city. With the ROAMD network, referring physicians will know they're recommending high-quality practices that will serve their patients well. The receiving practice has the benefit of a smooth transition as well as new revenue from the referred patient.

How ROAMD works

1

When one of your patients who has previously enrolled in ROAMD becomes sick or has a medical need while away from home, the member contacts you (his or her "home" physician) to be assessed over the phone or via a telemedicine application.

2

If the home physician recommends that the patient should be seen, the home physician taps into the ROAMD network to identify concierge and private medicine practices in the member's area of travel. The home physician shares this information with the member, who can then identify a preferred practice in his or her current location. The member does not initiate contact with an away-from-home ROAMD network physician, but can view geographical coverage from the ROAMD secure technology platform.

The preferred practice is conveyed to the home practice and to ROAMD. Then the member is sent appointment details and provided with access to care from a ROAMD participating practice. Pertinent medical information, including treatment details and any follow-up care recommendations, is transmitted securely between the ROAMD "home" and "away" physicians via a HIPAA-compliant technology platform.

4

Members pay for the delivery of professional services by "away" physicians. Professional services are delivered and billed by practices that are associated with the ROAMD network of concierge and private medicine physicians. Both members and physicians are encouraged to share feedback to ensure continued integrity amongst all ROAMD participants.
